

School Wide Instructional Focus 2024-2025

Literacy Focus

Students will identify key ideas and details and use evidence to demonstrate understanding of fictional and informational texts through discussion and written response. Using direct explicit systematic instruction, teachers will support students when identifying the most important or best details that would support their response.

Mathematics Focus

Through the practice of mathematical discourse, teachers will provide opportunities for students to engage in “productive struggle” when solving problems involving addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. They will also develop and apply number sense with both whole numbers and fractions by identifying patterns.